Fully configurable with over 50+ built-in LUTs for color correction All your favorite LUTs from bygone times are available in the latest version of DNG LUTs (and not only!). Completely compatible with new Digital SLRs Never again worry about getting a camera with built-in DNG LUTs wrong. Just load DNG LUTs into your camera, and you're good to go. Better handling of DNG LUTs We've now vastly improved the way DNG LUTs are handled by the camera. This is because we now recognize the different manufacturers' proprietary DNG LUTs. Add your favorite DNG LUTs (from other manufacturers) to your camera. With the latest version of DNG LUTs, you can change an image to look like it's being captured with the wrong LUTs. Paste a LUT in an image, and quickly use the LUT in other images. The new version of DNG LUTs also supports different color spaces, such as Adobe RGB, sRGB, Pro Photo RGB and more. Everything is built-in We know that you probably always have a ton of LUTs to choose from. We want to make that easier for you, so you don't have to download them one by one. Just pick one of the built-in DNG LUTs, and DNG LUTs will be added to the camera. Save LUTs in the camera This is great because you can just take them out of the camera when you want to use them somewhere else. Add LUTs at any point during image processing Add a LUT to an image any time you want – no matter what is happening. Create custom LUTs You can even create your own LUTs and save them for the next time. No more mangling images You'll no longer need to re-import images for every single change you make. Set the camera to take custom DNG LUTs Select the DNG LUT types for all captures, or just for selected captures. Get to the raws Now it's easy to adjust white balance and gamma, and view raws. Never delete DNG LUTs again Just delete DNG LUTs that are no longer needed. See your LUTs Now you can see which LUT is set in your camera, and which LUTs you've added yourself.
