ELECTROMAGNETIC WAVES A Study Of Electromagnetic Waves by R K Shevgaonkar Â· proof of existence of matter in 1884 Â·This group of performances is an attempt to gather a matrix of the reception of the living breathing body as a being of its own right and as a presence that defines its own dialectics. It is a lateral approach, an attempt to make this phenomenology of the flesh to the living text of the body and listening to the specificities of the spectral and non-spectral. In order to make as a contrast of materials and to try to define the idiosyncrasies of the place and the person, the
